STEVE: (prepares his voice and fixes his tie, sits up straight. Delivers proudly) Ladies and Gentlemen, welcome to today's 4 o'clock news on channel 51. Here, we'll be discussing national politics, more protesting and, of course, (emphasizes) The government shutdown. [Laughs loudly and throws paper] Nah. Who cares about that stuff! [somewhat surprised] Oh [looks over "camera"] My time's up? Oh. Alright then. [looks back at camera and regains his news forecasting voice] Well folks, it's time for Steven to give you the weather forecast. [smiles widely] Make sure that the wild weather doesn't blow you away. Hold on to your hats because you're going on a wild ride down the weather train. Make sure-

STEVEN: Steve, that was one of your worst puns ever. (sighs) Anyway folks, today we are having an extreme cold front with thunderstorms and tornadoes you've never seen before. Its literally going to rip your house apart... [Looks to his left and right nervously] So yeah, stay safe. Also, the cold front is going to have some snow storms that will happen up north which will be at least 6 feet of snow. I mean (starts raging) How the heck can we have so much bad weather on a Tuesday?! I guess I'll just bring it back to Steve.

STEVE: [Is standing in the middle of the stage, "microphone" in hand; also says in a serious voice] Ladies and Gentlemen, we have breaking news. That cold front that Steven was talking about... It wasn't just a cold front.

STEVEN: I said that there was also a couple of tornadoes. Were you listening?

STEVE: No, Steven. I was not. I was rushed over at the (emphasizes) speed of light- (laughs) Get it? (loses laughter) Because I went so fast... No... ok. (coughs) Well, back to the news. We are right outside of Steven's house. (gestures to Steven's house) There is a category 5 tornado forming right over there. (points right next to STEVEN's house and STEVEN starts panicking in the background on STAGE LEFT). [laughs and smiles] Here's one... What's a tornado's favorite game? [smiles] TWISTER!

STEVEN: What the heck?! I need to get there fast and stop it with my meteorologist powers before I have nowhere to live and I won't be able to live the life I always wanted! [Starts Crying and gets on his knees]

STEVE: Anyway, we have more important things to cover. The Instagram viral egg picture just reached 27 million likes.

STEVEN: That egg on Instagram reached that many likes? I need learn the secret talent of this egg, and I can't get out to save my house or I will have to have my paycheck cut!

STEVE: (return to professional voice) Anyway, we'll be heading over to New York city on our private jet. Stay tuned for more exciting information in the big apple. We'll be right back.

[STEVEN yells 'cut' offstage to indicate a scene change]

SCENE 2

STEVE: (sighs of relief) Phew. This job is getting harder and harder every day.

STEVEN: [Deep sadness] I know, ever since my wife left me, it has been horrendous!

STEVE: (says with passion [sadness]) Wow Steven. I didn't know that. We should have more of these off-camera conversations more often.

[huge explosion]

STEVEN: Woah! What was that?!

STEVE: Let's go find out.

[STEVE and STEVEN go outside]

STEVE: You know, this reminds me of some random joke.

STEVEN: Not again

STEVE: How do trees get on the internet?

STEVEN: No...

STEVE: They log in? Get it? Haha!

STEVEN: I probably am going to die first from your jokes before anyone that could have got hurt at that bang.

STEVE: [stomps feet and crosses arms, speaks like a little kid] you never give respect for my jokes.

STEVEN: Anyway, let's go check it out!

SCENE 3

[STEVE and STEVEN reach the city]

STEVE: (gasps) Are-you-serious? (breathes heavily) We ran all this way just to see a guy wearing an oversized garbage bag?

STEVEN: Uhh... I think he just blew up that building.

STEVE: [suddenly nervous] If we die today, I just want you to know... I knew that my jokes were always horrible. I just tried to make myself funny.

STEVEN: I knew that all along.

STEVE: Geez! I'm trying to give a sincere speech here and you just blow it all up?! Get it- blow it all up?

STEVEN: It's not like we're going to die.

STEVE: A guy just (loudly) blew up a building

STEVEN: [checks invisible watch] Our break's over. Let's make a report.

[STEVEN gets set up for a news report]

STEVEN: Ladies and gentlemen, we have breaking news. A man has miserably tried to show talent in the city but failed horribly by exploding a building.

STEVE: Hey! That's my line. Alright then. Today in the city, you may see showers of rubble from the buildings. There's also a slight chance of rain, most likely made out of [looks at shirt] (screams) FIRE!!! [pats it down]

STEVEN: Maybe this job isn't that bad... [laughs at STEVE]

STEVE: PHEW! I almost died. Where were we?

STEVEN: Before you walk outside today, make sure you check the area around you. Stay safe.
That's all for today's news report on Channel 51.

[‘cut’ in the background]

STEVE: That news report wasn't that bad! I mean, it could've been worse.

STEVEN: Yeah, and I didn't even have to hear one of your jokes again.

STEVE: Look at the mess though. Should we call the cops?

STEVEN: Probably.
